Navy Expansion Measure

By Committee

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The expanding regular army added two new streamlined divisions to its roster today, as congress went to work on the $1,200,000,000 navy bill that would give the United States the mightiest fleet in the history of sea power.

The new divisions—heavily armed and completely motorized—will give the army a total of eight streamlined units, each designed to strike with greater speed and power than the ponderous old-style divisions.

Secretary of War Woodring, announcing plans for the new divisions last night, said their troops would be drawn from the 38,000 enlistments for which congress provided funds recently when it increased army strength to 280,000 men.

Legislation for an even larger standing army already is half way through congress. Unanimously and without debate the house voted yesterday to move the strength up to 400,000 men—25,000 more than requested by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

With senate approval expected for an increase of at least that size, General Marshall has plans ready for a ninth streamlined division and the second of two highly mechanized divisions, similar to the German panzer divisions used in the European war.

The new fleet expansion bill, authorizing the construction of 84 more fighting ships during the next four years, was promised quick

LISBON JAYCEES
WILL INSTALL

Alfred J. Smith Is New President of Junior Chamber; Ceremonies Scheduled Wednesday

LISBON, June 18.—Alfred J. Smith will be installed as the new president of the Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Atty James F. Elliott, at ceremonies to be held at the Johnson cottage at Guilford lake Wednesday evening.

Other officers are: Dr. J. E. Jones, vice president; Aurel Muntan, secretary; Jack Clark, treasurer; O. M. McGeath chairman of the board of directors, and Dean Blackburn, J. F. Elliott and Francis Clark, members of the board of directors.

The Jaycees will meet at the city hall at 8 o'clock and go to the Johnson cottage where a dinner will precede the installation of officers.

TAX PAYMENTS
TO BEGIN AUG. 1

Real Estate Assessments May Be Paid Until September 11

LISBON, June 18.—County Treasurer Olen H. Dawson announced today that the collection of real estate property taxes for the last half of 1939 will begin on Monday, Aug. 1. Payment of the taxes will be accepted up to and including Sept. 11.

The departure of collection periods from the regular December and June dates of past years is due to state legislation which recently became effective making it mandatory that the books of the county treasurer's office be kept open for payment of real property taxes and assessments without penalty until Sept. 11. The collection periods of the past two years have been determined by this law, Dawson stated.

The mailing of statements will be continued, Dawson said. Notices will be sent out to all taxpayers, for whom addresses are available, on or about Aug. 1. The mailing list of the county treasurer's office, which covers over 50,000 lots and tracts of land, is constantly being revised and corrected in order that property transfers and changes of address might be properly listed.

The actual delivery of tax statements by mail has been approximately 100 percent efficient, Dawson stated. Basing his comment on results obtained in the first half collection, he expressed the belief the forthcoming collection will also be very satisfactory.

Catholic Groups
Planning Picnic

Junior and Senior divisions of St. Paul's Catholic club, holding a social meeting at the school last night, completed plans for a picnic with the Catholic Youth club at Firestone park June 30.

Those attending are asked to meet at the school at 7:30 p. m. Dancing and cards were enjoyed and lunch was served by Mary Catherine McCloskey, Jean Munsell, Thomas Shamon, Betty Bruder, Pauline Hilditch and Thomas Berger.

SOUTH AMERICA
ASKS TRADE AID

Argentines Seek Help To Avert European Domination

BUENOS AIRES, June 18.—Informed Argentine sources declared today that the South American nations, dependent on substantial export trade balance for both financial and political stability, need material aid from the United States to avert domination by totalitarian powers in Europe.

These sources said the time had arrived when the United States must choose between extending far-reaching financial aid to these "economic victims of the European war" or watching these nations fall into economic systems of old world totalitarianism.

Argentina, like Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and other South American republics, has seen her export markets disrupted and some of them eliminated by the spread of war in Europe, these sources pointed out.

These comments came as news arrived from Washington of a White House plan for an inter-American cartel, or sales agency, to handle western hemisphere exports. Under this plan a foreign purchaser would have to deal with this single agency rather than shop around for a bargain among the various countries.

Experts of the United States department of commerce said the plan would protect the American republics against being forced to accept barter deals such as those offered by Germany and Italy.

Argentines said this nation provides the best example of the peril to Pan-American democratic solidarity in the present economic problem.

Argentina is one of the strongest democracies below the equator, they declared, but economic instability is an ever-present threat to her security. Failure of Argentina to maintain her economic position through United States assistance would mean, they said, that as soon as the European war ends this country would be subjected to the domination of German economy because of inability to market her products elsewhere.

Argentina, with an important output of wheat, corn, meat, hides and wool in normal times, has lost 30 per cent of her markets abroad.

Blames Military Errors at

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, June 18.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared that the French would "be casting away their future" unless they continued the war, but he admitted "the battle of Britain is over; the battle of France is over; the battle of Britain is about to begin."

"If we lose it, the whole world, including the United States of America, will sink into the abyss of a new dark age," he told the house of commons.

The prime minister declared that Britain could not relieve France of her "treaty obligations" to continue the war.

He said, in fact, "it is not yet certain that military resistance by France will come to an end"—although he did not state in what form that resistance might continue.

Britain Prepared
However, he told the commons and people of his nation Britain, with over 1,250,000 of her own men under arms, dominions armies on her soil and a navy, was prepared to meet invasion.

The navy, he said, could not pretend to prevent raids by 5,000 or 10,000 men on a dark night or a foggy morning, but he predicted with confidence that these invaders might well be "drowned in the sea or blown to pieces while trying to land."

But Churchill let the nation know in stark language what he felt would happen if the "battle of Britain" were lost.

The new "dark age" which would come, he said, would be "made more sinister and perhaps more prolonged by the lights of a perverted science."

"Upon this battle," he cried, "depends the survival of Christian civilization. Hitler knows he will have to break us in this island or lose the war."

The one great question, he said, was: "Can we break Hitler's air weapon?"

Mound, Brooklyn Projects
Nearing Completion,
Engineer Says

The Mound st. and Brooklyn ave. WPA paving projects are expected to be completed by the end of the week, City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff said today.

Bases of both thoroughfares have been laid and asphalt topping material is now being applied. The Mound st. project is a little ahead of the Brooklyn ave. improvement.

The engineer announced that he hopes to start work on the W. Seventh st. paving job next week. It will be the seventh street to be paved under the city's WPA blanket street project.

Beside Mound and Brooklyn, other streets paved as a result of the project include Prospect, Maple, W. Fifth and S. Elsworth ave., south of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Frank Hits Mismanagement
By U. S. In Foreign Affairs

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The Republican national convention's resolutions committee was told today by Dr. Glenn Frank that the Roosevelt administration's handling of foreign affairs has been "more of an example of gross mismanagement" than its dealing with domestic problems.

Appearing before the policy-forming committee, Dr. Frank stood by the report made last February by a special Republican committee of 200 named to formulate the "basis" for a party platform. The special committee, headed by Dr. Frank, recommended non-involvement in "other people's wars."

Dr. Frank was applauded as he expressed belief that the nation's "rank and file" desired the Republican party to "stand for keep-

COLUMBUS, June 18.—Working at top speed, legislative committees today recommended for passage by the Ohio general assembly bills to separate the national and state tickets at the Nov. 5 election and to appropriate $2,800,000 for relief and old age pensions.

Five bills were to be voted on in either the house or senate this afternoon in the second day of a special session called by Gov. John W. Bricker. A sixth measure to hike maximum old age pension grants from $30 to $40 a month ran into house committee difficulties, but William McCulloch, speaker, said it should be ready for a vote in two days.

COLUMBUS, June 18.—The Ohio legislature moved quickly into high gear today and administration leaders predicted that Gov. John W. Bricker's six-point program, including $2,800,000 for relief and old age pensions, would be enacted within four days.

Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert said the senate could complete its work by tonight if the house kept pace. The house, however, with four times the senate membership, will need at least three days and maybe four, Speaker William M. McCulloch said.

"Greatest Fleet"
Is Admiral's Aim

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—Admiral Harold R. Stark unexpectedly recommended to congress today a $4,000,000,000 expansion of the navy to give this country the greatest fleet the world has ever seen.

Testifying before the house naval committee after a closed session, the chief of naval operations said the proposed program would add about 200 fighting ships to the navy and 1,250,000 tons to the navy's authorized combat tonnage. That tonnage now amounts to about 1,724,480 tons, he added.

Stark's public testimony on the new proposal was confined to barest details but, in response to question by Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.), he said he considered it "essential" to the defense of the United States and insular possessions as well as the defense of the Monroe doctrine.

War Flashes

LEONHARD, June 18.—Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) reported today that the Roumanian cabinet had resigned. It quoted DNB, German official news agency, as its source.

ROME, June 18.—Virginio Gayda, Mussolini's frequent mouthpiece, wrote today that with France in collapse and Britain fighting with American material assistance the war had become "a purely Anglo-Saxon struggle against a large part of the rest of the world."

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 18.—Canada's active service force, after months of preparation and training, finally got to France last week primed for front line action but, it was disclosed today, had to turn around immediately and returned to England without having seen a German or fired a shot.

VALETTA, Malta, June 18.—Three air raids over Malta occurred yesterday, first clear day since the Italian war declaration, but damage was slight and there were no casualties.

British fighters drove away the invaders after 55 bombs had been dropped.

LONDON, June 18.—Authoritative British circles insisted today they had no information concerning a report published by the Daily Mail that French and Italian warships had fought a major engagement with heavy Italian losses.

INSISTS PEACE
BE "HONORABLE"

France Declares Navy
And Air Force Are Still Intact

(By Associated Press)
BORDEAUX, France, June 18.—France, declaring her navy and her air force "intact," insisted today that her peace terms with Germany and Italy be "honorable."

While Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini were debating Premier Henri Philippe Petain's request for peace, Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin told the French people and the world by radio last night that "if we are given the choice between resistance and honor, the French army and the whole French people will know what to do."

Nazis Plunge Deeper
As he spoke the German legions were plunging still deeper into France on virtually all fronts, but the French army still resisted, especially at Orleans, 70 miles south of Paris, and in the region of La Charle-sur-Loire, a full 120 miles southeast of the capital.

(The Germans reported they have taken Orleans.)

At both of these places, which are on the Loire river, fighting was "violent," according to last night's communique of the French high command.

"At all points of contact," said the communique, "our troops still are fighting with the same bravery for the honor of the flag."

Baudouin said "we are ready to lay down arms if we can get an honorable peace, but we are never ready to accept shameful conditions which mean the end of the spiritual freedom of our people."

See End of Hand

Nevertheless French military spokesmen acknowledged that the end was at hand—that the front was disorganized and that the Germans had split the French forces into four ribbons.

And the army's communique said that German spearheads had been driven as far as the region of Dijon and Autun, east of the Loire, 150 to 175 miles southeast of Paris, and that Nazi mechanized units had reached the Doubs and Jura departments west of the Swiss frontier.

Whitt and Phillips attacked validity of their indictment.

PEACE WITH HONOR,
FRANCE'S DEMAND

Land, Sea and Air Forces
Are Directed to Con-

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, June 18.—DNB, official German news agency, announced tonight that Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini had agreed on the position of the Rome-Berlin axis concerning France's request for an armistice.

"Keep Fighting!" Order
BORDEAUX, France, June 18.—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain ordered all French soldiers and sailors on land, sea and in the air tonight to keep on fighting—even while he awaited Adolf Hitler's reply to his plea for an honorable peace.

Peace negotiations have not even begun, the 84-year-old premier told his men.

"The duty of all is to continue resistance," he said.

(Further indication that there may be no "peace with honor" for France was seen in a Reuters—British news agency—report attributed to the French radio, to the effect that the French cabinet, in its meeting today, was considering the problem of supplies as well as that of diplomacy.)

The order to continue resistance was made after reports were circulated among the French that German troops were raising the white flag to be able to advance without fighting. Frenchmen said the Germans apparently intended to make French troops believe an armistice already is in effect.

Petain's office, receiving reports of such incidents, declared that "all French and Allied combatants on land and sea and in the air are notified that no armistice and no suspension of fighting have occurred."

The exhausted French armies presumably were still fighting a losing battle.

Meet In Munich
MUNICH, June 18.—Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Count Ciano of Italy arrived at Munich at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. EST) today for their conference with Adolf Hitler on the French request for peace terms.

An hour later they sat down at a conference table with Hitler to discuss the fate of France.

Hitler arrived first, entering the city with all the pomp of a present-day Napoleon, while the church bells rang and the people cried out their bells.

Mussolini, the number 2 partner in an axis which thus far has not lost a major engagement in this war, arrived just three hours later.

They met in an atmosphere which suggested that the bargain might be a hard one for France. Authorized German sources declared:

"France must understand clearly that the vanquished cannot make demands!"

It seemed likely that Munich—as it was on another occasion now more than a year ago when Britain and France decided not to fight for Czechoslovakia—would be only a place for action, and that what was done might be announced not here but in Berlin and Rome.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, the German foreign minister, conducted Count Ciano, the Italian foreign minister, and others to the Prinz Karl palace.

THE IMPULSE OF GENEROSITY

Collections for the work the Red Cross is doing continue at a steady pace. They are short of expectations, however.

Persons in position to know what contributors are saying insist there has been no lessening of the impulse of generosity. They tell of gifts from persons and organizations of few means—always one of the heartening things about American giving. They relate incidents of thoughtfulness in unexpected quarters. The spirit of giving is not blacked out; they are sure of that.

It is true, nevertheless, that it is more difficult to raise money for war relief than it was during the World war, for instance. The reason is hard to determine—or perhaps there are many reasons. Capacity for giving may be less. The fact the war continued to seem remote until fighting actually began in the low countries a month ago may have deadened the emotional shock somewhat. The further fact the United States no longer is considered safe from invasion may be making it difficult for many citizens to think also of Europe.

The Red Cross drive continues; to those alert to the needs of sufferers it never stops. There is little Americans can do these days to show that their faith in humanitarianism hasn't been crushed by brutalities. The least they can do—the least that many are doing—is to ease the suffering of those who no longer possess means to help themselves.

A NURSE STAMP

Philatelists point with pride to the commemorative postage stamps of the United States. The first real commemoratives were the Columbian issue, commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of Columbus' discovery of the new world. Since that time our postal issues have commemorated expositions of all sorts. They have honored poets and presidents. There have been stamps in honor of states. Anniversaries of such things as the Panama Canal and the printing press have been thus noted. There was a Susan B. Anthony stamp and there was a Mothers' Day stamp.

One wonders why, in all this flood of special issues, there never has been a stamp to commemorate the service of the nursing profession to the nation in war and in peace. Our officials have even gone so far as to have a stamp commemorating our national game, baseball. Surely our nurses deserve some such recognition.

Foreign nations have paid some attention to this subject. Belgium had a Florence Nightingale stamp and Norway recently had a stamp picturing a hospital. Turkey is soon to bring forth a stamp picturing a nurse carrying a child.

The United States would do well to have a special stamp commemorating the service of nurses, for our nation has been a pioneer in the development of the profession.

Our suggestion is that the postoffice officials arrange such a stamp on National Hospital Day, the birthday of Florence Nightingale. This is a year hence—on May 12—but it gives ample time to make arrangements for such an issue next year.

RESURFACING STREETS

Perhaps those who use the streets of Salem should be thankful that many of the ruts have been filled and that, on the whole, the surface is much smoother, and therefore much safer for travel. No doubt many are thankful for improvements made recently. Judging by public comments, however, there are many others who are not satisfied with the results, especially on South Lincoln and West State streets.

The type of resurfacing material was not altogether to the liking of many motorists. That accounts for the ruts. The larger holes have been filled, but many rough spots remain and it will not be long until these streets again are in an unsatisfactory condition.

These jobs did not cost the city a lot of money, but one wonders whether they were worth the city's share of expense. If these streets do not stand up any longer or any better than the section of East State street in the business district, it will be another waste of money. But perhaps the motorists should be thankful for small favors, and not expect too much.

CONFLICTING testimonies are found in the astrological map for this day. While the mental faculties are under excellent stimuli, bright and keen as well as fortified by deep insight, shrewdness and sound judgment, yet there will be several adverse situations to cope with by bold initiative, quick decisions and a cleverness penetrating obscure, subtle or sinister circumstances. This intrigue or opposition may arise through elders.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year in which sagacity, quick and shrewd insight supported by reliable intuitions may be exercised to cope successfully with some hidden or sinister factors as well as downright opposition from elders or superiors. All depends on the decisive use of finely stimulated forces.

A child born on this day, while having brilliant mentality, deep insight as well as intuitions and imagination, should be industrious, systematic and quick to grasp subtle or curious complications.

HARD TERMS FOR FRANCE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Berlin was radiating the spirit of hard terms for France today.

That news fits a vivid impression which I have been carrying about for 21 years—an impression which came from the look on the drawn, grey faces of the German envoys as they signed the Treaty of Versailles.

There was a grim expression of defiance which advertised louder than words that some day they would strike back. That picture has been constantly in my mind since France signalled that she wanted peace.

It perhaps fits this general theme that Hitler should have chosen Munich, his favorite city, for his conference with Mussolini to write the fate of the French empire. The world won't soon forget that Munich was the incubator which fostered the Hitlerian ambition to expand Germany's lebensraum (living space).

France has declared that she won't accept dishonorable peace terms. All indications are, however, that she must be prepared for terribly hard conditions. It will be passing strange if Hitler doesn't dismember the empire.

France certainly is faced with heart-break, and in this hour of trial one instinctively thinks of her premier who has taken the wheel in this crisis—Marshal Henri Petain.

Not in a blue moon would you be able to count the thousands of Europe's living heroes, many of them newly made upon the battlefields of this war, but of this host the bravest of them all to my mind is that grand old soldier.

There could be no courage greater than that displayed by this 84-year-old military genius in allowing himself to be drafted to serve as the premier who must present the capitulation of his beloved France to Hitler.

It would be comparatively easy to declare:—"We shall fight to the last man." But the word "surrender" comes hardly to the lips of the defender of Verdun who sent echoing down through the generations the historic battle-cry "they shall not pass."

In his broadcast to his people, announcing that France must sue for peace, the marshal said in his simple but dignified language:

"I have given myself to France to better her situation at this grave hour."

Thus the hero of Verdun took upon his aged shoulders the burden of surrender.

Salute to a brave soldier!

Disk Dislocation Causes Pain In The Lower Back

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A patient writes "I have been told that my sciatica is due to a protruded intervertebral disk. Will you please explain what this means?"

THE BACKBONE is composed of a series of superimposed separate bones. Between each one is a cartilaginous disk called the "intervertebral disk." Recent studies have indicated that in certain cases low back pain and sciatica may be due to dislocation of this cartilaginous disk. The condition is known as "protruded intervertebral disk."

A considerable difference of opinion has been expressed as to how often it occurs. Probably a very low percentage—not more than 2 per cent of all cases of low back pain. Such cases of sciatica or low back pain as are caused by this condition are always preceded by injury or accident. Reports say that surgical removal of the disk is followed by relief.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

It certainly indicates that whoever made this diagnosis is an alert and up-to-date physician, but it is to be hoped that gossip on this subject will not spread too rapidly among nervous patients. Most cases of low back pain are relieved by manipulations and by rest, warmth, light treatment and diathermy.

What is the best solution to use for the prevention of athlete's foot in shower baths, by the sides of pools, and other such purposes?

A one per cent solution of sodium hypochlorite. Another solution used is calcium hypochlorite in a two per cent solution. This is generally cheaper than sodium hypochlorite but there have been no careful studies on the capacity of calcium hypochlorite to kill ringworm. It is also more irritating to tissues.

Sodium hypochlorite is conveniently purchased in metal chemical carboys in 20 per cent strength. This is diluted twenty to one for placing in footbaths and the solution should be changed every second or third day. The approximate cost per change should be about 10 or 15 cents, depending on the size of the footbath.

A diabetic or a person who is overweight, who uses saccharin regularly asks whether its continued use is accompanied by any harm.

No. This subject has been carefully investigated by a number of workers, and except in extremely large doses, no harmful effect has ever been proved from its use. The average amount of saccharin used is about a half a grain in a cup of coffee, making one and one-half grains a day the average dose. This can be continued for an indefinite period.

There are plenty of diabetic patients who have used saccharin for years and can testify to this fact.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 43th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene and The Care of the Hair and Skin."

"Spoiled Girl" by LUCILLE MARSH JOHNSON

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Time passed, interminably for Gabrielle. There were times punctuated by momentary pleasures to be sure, but for the most part time hung heavy and relentless upon her hands, though she tried doing first one thing and then another.

Throughout the coming of winter and the Yule season she dated Bob Eikhorn, going to the city for the new shows, and occasional good orchestra. These she enjoyed at the time, but upon reaching home she would suddenly find herself in the depths of moodiness again.

Every once in a while she heard of Peter, and when she did her heart would almost stop beating. She heard some of his songs and several of them she recognized as tunes he had sung to her in their few happy weeks together. Gone were her memories of their quarrels; she remembered only the happy times.

She knew from bits she read in the paper that Peter was now playing at one of the important night clubs in New York. Often, when she was in low spirits, she would torture herself by visualizing him with lovely entertainers. Peter was so good looking, so sweet, so romantic—

Her mother peeked into the room, gently shoved Odd out of the way with her foot, and said:

"Bob's waiting, Gabrielle. I told— I wouldn't keep him waiting too long if I were you!"

There seemed to be a double significance to her words but Gabrielle chose to ignore them. Everyone was pushing Bob off her whenever they could. At first this had rather amused her, but she was finding it increasingly difficult to enter into the social activities which she had once found so much fun.

Bob was nice, of good family, in business with his father, and an only child. She really couldn't do better, she knew, when it came to finding a suitable husband. And Bob loved her too. He'd been telling her so for so many years now. But—well, there was still Peter—Eying herself critically in the mirror, a small stain of satisfaction escaped her. It was nice to have luxurious clothes and surroundings, she reflected. But going down the stairs, she experienced a moment of indecision when she would have gladly traded everything for a few minutes alone with Peter in the little apartment on Apple Tree street.

The evening seemed to be a jollier one than usual, she thought, as she stood on the flagged courtyard at the country club. Everyone was full of plans for fall except herself and a very few who were older and had jobs. Only she, Gabrielle felt, was without plans.

The French windows were thrown open wide, and through them she saw pretty girls in their white and pastel tinted frocks, was aware of tall male figures in their white linen dinner jackets. An unexpected rose in her throat; she blinked hard to keep back the tears which seemed determined to fall.

"What's wrong, sugar?" asked Bob softly, his eyes caressing her. "Tell me, Gaby."

"Bob, oh Bob," she whispered, a heartbreak in her low, husky voice. "I've made such a mess of things. I've been so alone in a far part of the courtyard. There was no moon but a thousand twinkling stars were sprinkled over the sky, a sky like black velvet. Flowering shrubbery gave off a delicate perfume; the low voice of a crooner was pleading for love."

"Gaby, I must tell you now! I want you to marry me—I want to make you happy again. I've plenty of the so-called worldly goods to offer you, sugar, but I've a heart full of love, too!"

She glanced up tearfully, her wet lashes giving her a piquant child-like look: "Oh—please, Bob."

"Don't try to stop me, sugar," he went on firmly. "Say you will marry me, Gaby. Say it!"

"But Bob—" Gabrielle hesitated, hunted for the right words, "I haven't anything left to give you, I mean. I have no love for you—only a deep liking. It isn't good enough, Bob. You deserve better."

"I could manage on that for awhile, sugar," he put in confidently. "I'll take you away from here, and when I bring my wife home—well, he laughed boyishly—I'll wager she'll love her husband!"

Gabrielle smiled wanly: "I couldn't think of it Bob."

"Gaby—save your answer if you're bound to say no!"

"There's no use saving it, Bob," she said gently. "I love Peter right now more than I ever have. The divorce didn't make me free of that!"

"Then—why did you get a divorce?"

"To save my pride, I suppose," she answered wearily. "After all, Peter so plainly showed he didn't want me any more."

"I just can't understand that," breathed Bob.

"I've often wondered myself," said Gabrielle, smiling suddenly. "Let's forget it, Bob. We'll be friends—good friends, shall we?"

Silently taking the soft slim hand offered him, the tall man stared gravely down at her.

At noon, the following day, Tony and Dorothy came breezily in to inform Gabrielle they were leaving for the Mackey's summer cottage in the Ozarks. They were to stay about a month, Dorothy explained, saying the scenery would soon be magnificent.

"We thought you'd like to come along, Gaby," said Tony. "It will stay warm for some time yet, and we can swim and read a lot. You can drive your own car, then. If you're bored—you can come right home!"

"How nice," said Mrs. Snow. "Why don't you, dear?"

"Oh, I don't know," began Gabrielle uncertainly. "I'm not ready to go," she added lamely.

"But, Gaby," laughed Dorothy, "we aren't leaving until tomorrow morning!"

"I'm sorry, Dot," Gabrielle said quietly. "I just don't seem to want to do anything."

This wasn't exactly true, thought Gabrielle, she did want to do one thing, go one place—she wanted to go to Peter—she wanted to go where he was—

"Aw, let her make up her mind and call us," said Tony sympathetically. "Call us tonight, Gaby!"

"Come on, Gaby!" urged Dorothy levelly. "You'll be sorry if you pass up going with us. We're leaving about eight o'clock in the morning—if Tony can get up so early!"

"May I call you tonight, Dot?"

"Oh, Gabrielle, do go, dear!"

She looked at her mother quickly, then smiled. Helen so obviously wanted her to go. Well, she decided abruptly, what did it matter where she was—Peter wouldn't be there—no matter where she went. Aloud she said:

"All right, Dot, I'll go. And—think you for the invitation. It wasn't because I didn't appreciate it that I hesitated; I'm just such rotten company!"

Tony laughed: "That's what you say!"

The next afternoon, rather late, found Gabrielle, Dorothy, Tony, and small Tony at the cottage. It was a beautiful spot, placed high beside a clear running stream; deep enough in places for good swimming and canoeing. Gabrielle had visited here often in previous summers and had always thoroughly enjoyed herself.

It was a sprawling, five room house, surrounded on three sides by a screened in veranda. Bonnie, a young farm girl living nearby, came in each morning and did the work, washing the dishes and the baby's things. Dorothy did the cooking with Tony striving to be of assistance.

Always before, Bonnie had been hired to do all of the cooking as well as the other work; Gabrielle smiled when she found Dorothy in navy slacks and red cotton jersey standing over the oil range frying potatoes for supper.

Gabrielle wore a peasant type smock of fine yellow linen. She grinned affably at Dorothy, and said:

"When did you learn to cook?"

"Why, at home! I'm a very fine cook—Eliza doesn't do it all at my house."

"How about my setting the table for you?"

"Sure. And you may fix those melons, too," ordered Dorothy.

Gabrielle got a red and white checkered cloth and napkins from a drawer, and took them out on the porch. Returning, she took the

In sadder plight than the old lady in the nursery rhyme, who "didn't know what to do," Mrs. Henrietta McCloskey doesn't even have a shoe for her brood. The mother is thirty-six years old.

heavy pottery dishes of deep yellow, and the silver with the green handles, and placed them on the table. It looked quite gypsylike in its lovely outdoor setting.

"This is the most peaceful place on earth," she vowed, when she began preparing the cantaloupes. She sighed: "I'd like to stay here all winter!"

"Yes, you would!" jeered Dorothy, pouring boiling water into the huge, brown earthenware drip-pot. "You'd long for the home town in no time!"

Gabrielle regarded her steadily. There seemed to be something undercurrent in all of Dorothy's speeches, she thought. Suddenly, she recalled a remark made long ago, at the beach near the country clubhouse, after Peter's leaving for New York. She had said, Gabrielle remembered perfectly, that she'd known Peter's and her marriage wouldn't last.

She was on the verge of asking about this when Tony came in, dripping wet from his recent plunge into the stream. He stood in the kitchen doorway grinning at them. Then, stepping gingerly just inside, he kissed Dorothy lightly on the nape of her neck.

"Hurry up, husband," urged Dorothy, in her flat tone of voice. Gabrielle caught the look that passed between them, however. A quick spasm of envy shot through her. At the word husband, at the look which had passed between them, and—just because she was hurting so constantly inside.

BARDEX MINSTRELS EXHIBITING HERE

The big lot at Franklin and Broadway was thronged with pleasure seekers who went to see the first performance of the Bardex Minstrels here Monday night.

Men, women and children were here in large numbers and while very available foot of space was occupied the crowd was well hand-1 and everyone was comfortable. Special places were provided for uios and scores of people viewed he show from their cars.

It was a good show, too, and uiding from the roars of laughter and generous applause that greeted every member, the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Another performance will be given tonight at 7:30 with an entire change of program, including new songs, stories, jokes and musical numbers and particularly pleasing comedy for the youngsters.

The Bardex Minstrel's will be here for three weeks giving an entire change of program every night. This show is free to everybody.—Adv.

4-H Club News

LISBON, June 18.—Miss Lura
Beath, acting home demonstration agent, Ohio State university, spoke at the all day 4-H advisors clothing meeting recently in the Lepper library here.

Miss Beath discussed with the advisors the various problems in clothing which the 4-H girls may have. She centered her discussion around the consideration of the build of the individual girl, the selection of fabrics which the girls could use in their projects, and the various garment construction problems.

To more clearly show why one should carefully consider build when selecting clothing design, Miss Beath displayed charts in which Miss Hippy, Miss Wee Busty,
Miss Chubby, Miss Lanky, and Miss Half Pint appeared as the girl of the desired build. This change in one's appearance can be achieved by playing up one's good features and hiding bad ones in the designing of clothing. "Since very few of us design our own clothing," she said, "we should carefully purchase our patterns only after we have considered these fundamental principles of design."

"Spring materials take on a new appearance this spring. The denim that we formerly thought could be used only for overalls now has many different uses since it has been treated to give it a more merciful appearance. There are seersucker materials which now have a permanent crepe finish, gingham with a more sheer appearance, and many rayons that have been treated to make them more resistant."

As the projects of the girls progress toward completion during the summer, many construction problems arise which the advisors must help the girls to solve. Miss Beath discussed these problems with the advisors and showed them samples of the accepted methods to be used by the Ohio extension service.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BUILD YOUR OWN HOME?

Probably never before in the history of modern times has it been so easy for the man with a moderate income to build a new home. Today, it is possible to secure financial assistance to such an extent that many persons, without realizing it, are in position to build new homes of the type they have always wanted. If you own a lot in a good neighborhood, and have steady, gainful employment, it is within your ability to borrow all the money you require for the construction of a new home at moderate cost.

If you are buying a good lot and have it partly paid for, you may need only a surprisingly small amount of money to finance your home. The first step in planning a new home is to secure a lot in a desirable neighborhood. By purchasing a lot now, you will make it much easier to finance the construction of your home later on.

We have many choice lots located in all parts of Salem, as well as some fine suburban building sites at prices you can afford to pay. If you have long dreamed of building your own home, come in and talk it over with us; you may be surprised to learn how easy it is to turn dreams into realities.

THIS FARM MUST BE SOLD TO PAY DEBTS! COME IN AND MAKE US AN OFFER!

THIS FARM IS KNOWN AS THE CHARLES SAXON FARM and is located about one mile west of Route 45, which leads to Warren; it is on a good paved road and has 157 1/2 acres of land.
Of course, you know this is a fine neighborhood and a good location. Farm lays nice. First-class pasture with running water.
Buildings are old, but livable. House has 8 rooms, good cellar, bank barn. This farm has a gas well on it that has been pumping better than 30 years and pays $140.00 a year; free gas can be had in the house. Now this farm can be sold to you at the price of a city property, so why not take your family out there and make use of them and you can still keep your job in the shop. Think this over as farm land is going up. For more particulars, see—

LEETONIA COPS FOURTH WIN IN SOFTBALL LOOP

Remains Close Behind Leaders In Class A League

Remaining within striking distance of first place in the Class A Softball league, the Leetonia Merchants turned back the Washingtonville Merchants, 4 to 2, to post their fourth victory of the season at Centennial park last evening.

The Leetonians, who have one defeat chalked up alongside of their four wins, are settled comfortably in third place, close behind the Salem Recreation and National Sanitary who are tied for first place with four victories and no defeats.

Should the Recreation and Sanitary lose one game apiece, the Leetonia club is in position to move into a tie for the lead in the Class A circuit's first half race.

Hits to Spare
The Leetonia stars had plenty of hits to spare last evening as they breezed past the struggling Washingtonville club. They hammered Pitcher Petlo of Washingtonville for 10 safe blows to score one run in the second inning, two in the third and one in the sixth.

Don Harrold, ace of the Leetonia pitching staff, limited Washingtonville batters to six hits. Washingtonville, trailing throughout the game, scored one run in the fifth on a Leetonia error and added another tally in the seventh, too late to do any good.

Mullins Manufacturers, looking anything but like champions, suffered their second defeat of the season in the other Class A game, falling before the Salem Eagles, 6 to 4.

The Manufacturers gave one of their poorest fielding performances in years, making eight errors to aid the Eagles in gaining the victory.

Loose fielding by Mullins enabled the Eagles to score four runs in the first inning. They added one run in the third and one in the fourth.

The Manufacturers picked up one run in the first inning, one in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Methodists Win
The top-ranking Methodists last evening strengthened their grip on first place in the Church league by blasting the Young People's Catholic Club, 1 to 1, in one of two Church league tilts.

Pitcher Les Knepp of the Methodists held the Y. P. C. C. to three hits, while his mates hammered out 13 safe blows to support his fine mound performance.

The Baptists swamped the Presbyterians, 12 to 5, in the other Church league game, scoring freely on a 15-hit attack.

REDS BACK ON TOP WITH ONE GAME MARGIN

Cincinnati Returns To First Place In Hot Race

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Riding a new victory wave, the Cincinnati Reds were doing business from their old stand at the head of the National league today as they prepared for a night tilt with the Phils.

Because they like the top spot and the ease with which tables are being turned in the senior circuit, the Rhinelanders assigned Bucky Walters, their ace hurler, to toss it out with Hugh Mulcahy for Philadelphia.

It will be Walters' fourth try for his tenth victory but early in the season he reeled off nine straight triumphs. Mulcahy has won six, lost five games.

The turn of events which put the Reds out in front was their 6-2 trouncing of the Phils yesterday and a Cardinal defeat of the Dodgers, still shaken by the twin trimming at the hands of the Rhinelanders Sunday. It was the Cardinals' fifth straight triumph, the third in three days for Cincinnati.

Share Spotlight
Eddie Joost and Whitey Moore shared the spotlight in the Rhinelanders' win.

Shortstop Eddie got his first major league home run with a pair of mates aboard in the second. Morrie Aronovitch, who the Reds obtained from the Phils in a trade for Johnny Rizzo and a reported $15,000, made one of his two hits account for a Cincinnati run in the first. The Reds scored in each of the two final frames.

Moore, who had his fast one working, took over mound duties after a brief start by Johnny Vander Meer and allowed only two hits in eight rounds. The Phils got only three safeties, but the two Cincinnati pitchers gave up eight bases on balls. The Phils scored in the first and second rounds.

Walter Beck went all the way for the Phils.

Kennels Defeat Martin Team, 2-1

Breaking a 1-1 deadlock with one run in the last half of the ninth inning, the Driscollwood Kennels nosed out the Martin Tires 2 to 1, in a softball game at the Driscollwood field yesterday.

The Tires outfit the Kennels, 10 to 7, but lacked the necessary scoring punch.

AIDING YANK, PUSH

By Jack Sord

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Strange sights: Cardinal pitchers actually going the distance these days. They already have $45,000 in the till for Louis vs. Godoy and it may do a lot better than was first thought.

Baron Roots Doffenberg, who traded beers for cheers, is collecting dividends down in the Southern Association. He had won 10 games on June 12 and at that rate stands to win about 30 games for Nashville.

That Man Is Back
"Old Fox" Clark Griffith sure likes to take the joy out of life for New York fans. First, he predicts the Yanks won't win again. Now he says Medwick coming to the Dodgers was just another baseball deal—that Joe isn't the difference between a pretty good team and a flag.

The Yanks have got to step on it, at that. Some of the dopesters have figured it out they'll have to win seven of every 10 remaining games to cop for the fifth time in a row.

Clark Shaughnessy climbs way out on the limb for Norman Standlee, Stanford fullback: "As good as I've seen in 26 years of football," he says.

Today's Guest Star
Don McDowell, Rapid City (S. D.) Journal: "Rollie Hemsley, Cleveland catcher who took the cure last winter, still holds forth in big style behind the plate, proving there can be punch without rum."

The Southern Association is a left-hand hitters' league—only four right-hand batters have won the championship in more than 10 years.

Mike Jacobs takes to deny charges that he is a menace to boxing. Explaining his failure to win his debut game with the Brooks, Curt Davis said: "For a few moments, I forgot where I was. When the first two batters hit safely and no pitcher rushed out to relieve me, I became disconcerted and thought I was back in St. Louis."

Insurrection Note
Well, we're glad the Cleveland uprising is over. Personally, we never could decide whether Oscar was giving the Indians Vitts, or throwing too many himself.

One-Minute Interview
Billy Southworth: "Medwick? I saw enough of that guy in one ball game."

American Legion Baseball Program To Open Tuesday

Opening games of the 1940 season in the American Legion junior baseball program, sponsored by Charles H. Carey post No. 56 for boys up to 17-years of age, will be played Thursday morning at Centennial park.

Two leagues will be in action again this season, one for juniors and the other for seniors. Both leagues will include four teams, representing the north, south, east and west ends of the city.

Captains of the various teams are: East Seniors, Bob Ritchie; East Juniors, Henry Kleinaman; West Seniors, Bob Seullion; West Juniors, Denny Bruderly; North Seniors, Salvatore Guappone; North Juniors, Harry Lodge; South Seniors, Pat Nocera; South Juniors, Pat Appedisan.

J. M. Kelley will again supervise league play and officiate games. A schedule has been arranged so that both Junior and Senior teams from the various sections of the city will be in action on the same day, thereby making it possible for the older boys to look after younger boys from their end of town.

The following schedule is for both Junior and Senior leagues:
June 19—East vs. South; June 20—North vs. West; June 24—East vs. North; June 25—South vs. West; June 27—East vs. West; June 28—North vs. South.

July 1—East vs. South; July 2—North vs. West; July 3—East vs. North; July 5—South vs. West; July 6—East vs. West; July 9—North vs. South.

Frank Young returned to his home in Cincinnati Saturday after a ten day visit with his father, William Young.

Mrs. Francis Fry and son Harry Frank of New Galilee, Pa., were weekend guests of Mrs. Fry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waddell, south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ginter have returned from a week's visit in New York.

KELSO, Wash.—John Gantenbein, 86-year-old shoe repairman, has cut a third set of teeth. The phenomenon, he said, was accompanied by teething pains common to babies.

Navy Expansion Measure Promised Quick Action By Committee

action as the house naval committee opened hearings.

Bill Labeled "Must"

Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.), putting passage of the bill in the "must" category, declared that "world conditions make it absolutely imperative that the navy be built up as rapidly as possible."

The program, representing a fleet expansion of 23.5 per cent, envisions a 1944 navy twice the size it was in 1938. In that year a 20 per cent increase was voted. Last week congressional action on an additional 11 per cent expansion. Completion of the whole huge undertaking would give the nation a fleet of 618 ships.

BRITISH CHIEF DEFIES HITLER

1,250,000 Men under arms, Prepared To Meet Invasion

The nation, Churchill warned, will face air attack soon.

He added, however, that "no invasion on a scale beyond the capacity of our air forces to crush immediately is likely to take place from the air until our air force has been definitely overpowered."

The prime minister told his listeners to remember that from 200 to 250 ships would be needed to carry "even five divisions" of Germans across the channel.

Cites Defense Advantages

Declaring "the advantage of the defenders will be very great," he said Britain hoped to improve on the ratio of three or four German planes downed for every British plane lost which, he said, was established over Dunkerque, at the end of the battle of Flanders.

In the final battle for France, now lost, Churchill asserted there were only three British divisions, because of the time it took to replace supplies and equipment lost in the disaster of Flanders.

We sent every man we could to France as fast as we could re-equip and transport their formations," he said.

Without the concentration of men and materials now in England, Churchill explained, "we cannot face what lies before us."

Churchill told commons that the entire British expeditionary force in France was thrown out of action when the French high command failed to withdraw the northern armies from Belgium at the moment they knew the French front was broken at Sedan and on the Meuse river.

The delay entailed a loss of 15 or 16 French divisions, Churchill said. Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, today appealed to all who could to make interest free war loans to the government.

The loans would be repaid three months after conclusion of a peace treaty, Sir Kingsley said.

Makes No Difference

Churchill in a radio speech last night said that "what has happened in France makes no difference to Britain's faith and purpose."

"We shall defend our island home," he declared, "and with the British empire around us we shall fight on, unconquerable, until the curse of Hitler is lifted from the brows of mankind."

The air ministry said "the RAF heavily bombed military objectives over a wide area in the Rhineland, Ruhr and northwestern Germany last night."

"Early today an enemy destroyer off the Frisian islands was bombed and hit amidships," the report added.

Steel Worker Held In Investigation Of Lorain Tragedy

LORAIN, June 18.—A steel worker's advances during an automobile ride caused the death one week ago of pretty Velma Ericson, 16-year-old Lorain high school honor graduate police said today.

Held in jail for investigation, the steel worker, 29, married and father of one, confessed Miss Ericson jumped from his moving car when "I tried to put my arm around her," Detective Lieut. John Meister reported.

The girl died of a skull fracture, Coroner S. C. Ward said, a few hours after she was found wandering dazedly in south Lorain last Wednesday morning. A friend, Ruth Ford, 18, related she and Miss Ericson accepted a man's offer of a ride as they left a Lorain restaurant. The driver, Miss Ford said, took her home first, then drove away with her companion.

The suspect apparently was in jail at the time police started their search for him, officers said. He admitted he was arrested for disorderly conduct a short time after he returned home from the ride, and was released the following day.

Meister said the suspect's arrest for disorderly conduct followed a neighbor's complaint about a domestic quarrel.

Authorities reported the steel worker was taken into custody after police located an automobile fitting the description given by Miss Ford.

Unhurt In Crashes

No one was reported injured when automobiles driven by Robert Metzger, 16, of Louisville, and Richard Young, 33, of Cincinnati, collided on Route 42, several miles west of Westville, at 11:25 a. m. today.

Sam Grossman, 26, of Warren, escaped unhurt when his car skidded into a guard rail on the same route, three miles east of Alliance, at 10:40 a. m. today, state patrolmen said.

$450,000 Payroll

COLUMBUS, June 18.—Approximately 11,000 Ohio National Guardsmen will receive $450,000 for three weeks of maneuvers with the second army near Sparta, Wis., beginning Aug. 11, Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light estimated today.

Columbiana Girl Has Perfect Record

Mildred Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burton, R. D. 1, Columbiana, was one of three students honored at Mount Union college for having a perfect record of attendance at classes and chapel exercises. Miss Burton was the only senior to receive this honor. Donald Burgett of the junior class and Jean Waffer of the freshman class were honored at the same time.

Miss Burton was graduated from Columbiana High school in June, 1936, and entered Mount Union college in the fall of that year. While at Mount Union she was honored by election to the Cercle Francais and Pi Gamma Mu honorary social science fraternity.

In addition, Miss Burton served as president of the Women's Student Government board and vice president of the Dynamo (weekly) association during her senior year. She was a member of the Y. W. C. A., the Women's Athletic association and the Unionian annual staff. She received the Bachelor of Arts degree last week at Mount Union college and is prepared to teach high school French, Latin, English and history.

Endeavors Will Rally In Liverpool

The Columbiana County Christian Endeavor will sponsor a rally at the Calvary Methodist church in East Liverpool Friday night. More than 500 are expected to attend, local members point out.

Societies from Salem, East Palestine, Columbiana, Lisbon, Wellsville, Hanoverton, Salineville and East Liverpool will be represented. Music will be furnished by the Salvation Army band of East Liverpool.

Miss Columbiana is to be crowned that evening, winning an all expense trip to the state Christian Endeavor convention in Youngstown June 25-28.

BRICKER BILLS SUCCESS SEEN

Legislative Leaders Expect Enactment Within Four Days

bly convened in special session last night, were taken up in committee meetings today. They were:

Appropriating $1,460,387.95 for poor relief, to be distributed among the local governments on a ratio of their expenditures in the last six months of 1939; and making available an additional $333,333.33 for relief loans to cities and counties;

Appropriating 2,000,000 (half of it federal funds) for old age pensions during the remainder of the year, which on the present scale of $23 a month average payments, would permit the addition of at least 14,500 persons to the rolls;

Creating a special ballot for the presidential and vice-presidential candidates in the November election, thus severing them from the state ballot;

Increasing the maximum old age pension payments from $30 a month to $40, effective March 31, 1941, although the measure made no provision for the necessary additional funds, and amending the aid for dependent children act to release for use between $800,000 and $900,000 in federal funds now "frozen" in the state treasury.

O. K'd By Committee

The sixth bill enabling local governments to fund poor relief deficits incurred before Jan. 1, 1940, was recommended for passage by the senate taxation committee.

While leaders of the senate Republicans reported complete harmony, house Republicans were not so fortunate.

Some of the nine Republican representatives from the Hamilton county district (Cincinnati) were plucked because their fellow townsmen, Rep. William H. Deddens, was chosen speaker pro-tem succeeding J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette, now in congress.

Although Deddens practically had been conceded the position in informed quarters, a first-term "dark horse" from the rural bloc—Rep. Harold W. Houston (R., Champagne)—was chosen. The vote was: Houston 56, Deddens 23.

Should the Hamilton county Republicans register their indignation by voting against the ballot-splitting bill, they might prevent its enactment as an emergency measure effective immediately. In this event, the Democrats could obtain a referendum and keep it from going into effect for the Nov. 5 election.

Democrats indicated they would attempt to amend the administration's ballot bill and divorce also the candidate for U. S. senator from the state ticket.

This theoretically would reduce the strength which Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, gives to his party's state ticket. Governor Bricker, speaking before a joint session of the senate and house, declared the national and state tickets should be separated to make possible a "free expression" of the voters' judgment.

Veterans of Ohio Uniting for Battle On "Trojan Horse"

AKRON, June 18.—Department commanders of Ohio's veteran organizations meeting in Akron today adopted the nation's first "united front" program against such organizations against fifth column activities.

The commanders announced that evidence had been presented to their respective organizations that "Trojan horse" movements exist in Ohio on an organized scale.

As outlined at the commanders' session, the program would include active participation by the 100,000 members of the various organizations within the state as well as co-operation with federal authorities.

Present at the informal meeting in the Mayflower hotel were Harold G. Skinner, Toledo Veterans of Foreign Wars; Clinton Kramer of Zanesville, Disabled American Veterans of the World War; William Babler of Cleveland, Jewish War Veterans of the U. S. and George M. Gunderson, Army and Navy Union.

Stoffer Vacations, Gaunt Acting Chief

Patrolman Nerr Gaunt was appointed acting chief of police today by Mayor Norman Phillips in the absence of Chief Ralph N. Stoffer who is taking a week's vacation.

Gaunt also will serve as chief when the chief takes another week of vacation later on.

Mayor On Committee

Mayor Norman Phillips today was named as a member of the Columbiana county Democratic executive committee by M. L. Clendening of Wellsville, county chairman.

Clendening has called a meeting of the committee for 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Lisbon court house to organize more fully and discuss campaign plans.

SALINEVILLE, June 18.—This village today spurred plans for its annual home-coming celebration July 17 to 21. A parade will include a community picnic, children's day, Old Settler day and other features.

Theatre Attractions

Andrea Leeds and Warner Baxter in "Earthbound" at the State Wednesday only.

"Earthbound," amusing and fascinating tale of a murdered man who lives on after death, brings Andrea Leeds and Warner Baxter to the screen as a romantic team, showing at the State theater Wednesday only.

Meeting death at the hands of a friend's wife, with whom he had once been in love, Baxter is unable to prevent the friend from being accused of the crime, although he is present at the trial and subsequent events.

His wife refuses to believe the friend committed the crime and sets out to make the friend's wife confess. Through the one man he has met, played by Charley Grapevine, who can establish contact with him, the murdered man tells his wife where the murder weapon is and enables her to confront the friend's wife with the evidence.

OBERLIN, June 18.—More than a thousand high school pupils from coast to coast, members of Hi-Y clubs throughout the United States, will arrive here for the third national Hi-Y Congress Thursday.

Better hurry up, pal—Your ship's coming in!

"THAT'S RIGHT, fishy ol' boy! But I don't have to wait for my ship to come in before I can afford to eat like a king. Hainan's serves royal meals... at average pocketbook prices!"
